

Keynote Speaker Day-2
2020 DISABILITY MATTERS
 North America Conference & Awards
 April 21-23, 2020
 Auburn, Alabama

LESLIE IRBY
 Pilot, Model, Mental Health Professional

Involved in a car accident in 2013 where multiple fatalities occurred, Leslie became paralyzed. Deciding life was worth living, she refused to let this life-altering injury stop her, giving new meaning to “The Phoenix Rises”. Leslie was crowned Ms. Wheelchair Georgia in 2015, shortly after, becoming the first African American female model with a disability to be in a major fashion show and almost immediately after that, receiving her Masters degree in Clinical Rehabilitation and Mental Health Counseling. If that were not enough, on June 28, 2019, Leslie finished a dream she started many years earlier, becoming the first African American Female with a disability to receive a pilots license.

A Woman of Many Firsts
