On April 16th, 2013, Sprint will be recognized at the 7th Annual U.S. Disability Matters Awards Banquet and Conference for its Innovative Accessibility Solutions provided to differently abled consumers. The Florida event is an important one, seeking to deliver accessibility solutions that empower those with disabilities. The award is given to pioneering corporations within the accessibility realm, and Sprint is one of seven companies to be awarded this year.

The company will be specifically recognized for its innovative marketing products and services, such as Sprint's ID packs, which are free for customers who already have an Everything Data plan. Research shows that more than 80% of people with disabilities have access to a wireless communication device, and Sprint's ID pack enables that population to use their devices in ways that were otherwise not possible.
